

CME Saturday@StonyBrook

The new monthly Saturday Surgical Seminar Series, sponsored by the Department of Surgery at Stony Brook University Medical Center, will start in October 2009 and offer two (2) CME credits per seminar. This program is free of charge.

What referring physicians need to know about the latest advances in surgery

Please Join Us

The seminars—to be held on the second Saturday of each month, from 8:00 to 10:00 am, at Stony Brook University Medical Center—will provide lectures and discussion on what referring physicians need to know about the latest advances in surgery. The focus of each seminar will be on the new options available for patients requiring surgery. Featured speakers will include the faculty of the Department of Surgery and its clinical services representing diverse areas of surgical specialization:

Cardiothoracic Surgery

October 10, 2009

- Robotic Approaches to Coronary Revascularization (Dr. Frank Seifert)
- Minimally Invasive and Percutaneous Valve Surgery (Dr. Todd Rosengart)
- Mitral Valve Repair: Advances in Minimally Invasive Cardiac Surgery (Dr. Sandeep Gupta)

General Surgery

November 14, 2009

- The Acute Abdomen: Is It Acute? (Dr. Marc Shapiro)
- The Realm of the Bulge: Hernias of All Types (Dr. Jared Huston)
- The Latest in Laparoscopy: One Port, Two Ports, or Transoral (Dr. Louis Merriam)

Pediatric Surgery

December 12, 2009

- Office Procedures for Pediatricians: Do's, Don'ts, and Hands-On Simulation Experience (Dr. Thomas Lee and Dr. Richard Scriven)

Vascular Surgery

January 9, 2010

- Management of Thoracic and Thoracoabdominal Aneurysms in the 21st Century (Dr. Mazen Hashisho)
- Endovascular Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm Repair: The Current State (Dr. Apostolos Tassiopoulos)
- Minimally Invasive Techniques in the Management of Peripheral Arterial Disease (Dr. David Landau)

Colon and Rectal Surgery

February 13, 2010

- TEM: Transanal Endoscopic Microsurgery (Dr. Paula Denoya)
- Laparoscopic Colorectal Surgery (Dr. Roberto Bergamaschi)

Breast Surgery

March 13, 2010

- Breast Cancer: Current Options and Strategies (Dr. Christine Rizk)
- Partial Breast Irradiation: Is It Enough? (Dr. Brian O'Hea)

Otolaryngology- Head and Neck Surgery

April 10, 2010

- Advances in the Diagnosis and Treatment of Vocal Cord Paralysis (Dr. Elliot Regenbogen)
- Advances in Rhinology: State of the Art (Dr. Ghassan Samara)
- Sudden Hearing Loss: The Diagnosis and Management of the Individual Who Has Suddenly Gone Deaf (Dr. David Schessel)

Upper Gastrointestinal and General Oncologic Surgery

May 8, 2010

- Endoscopic Evaluation of Cystic Lesions of the Pancreas (Dr. Jonathan Buscaglia, of Stony Brook's Division of Gastroenterology-Hepatology)
- Indications for and Surgical Management of Cystic Pancreatic Lesions (Dr. William Jarnagin, of Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center)
- Laparoscopic Management of Cystic Pancreatic Lesions (Dr. Kevin Watkins)

Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery

June 12, 2010

- Aesthetic and Reconstructive Breast Surgery: State of the Art (Dr. Duc Bui)
- Cosmetic Surgery: What's New, What's Old, What Works (Dr. Sami Khan)
- Abdominal Wall Reconstruction Simplified (Dr. Mark Gelfand)
- Common Hand Surgical Conditions (Dr. Jason Ganz)
- Facial Reconstruction (Dr. Alexander Dagum)

Free CME Opportunities

For more information and/or to register for attendance, please call (631) 444-2037.

The School of Medicine, State University of New York at Stony Brook, is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians. The School of Medicine designates this activity for a maximum of 2 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Policy: All those in control of the content of its CME activities (planners, speakers, authors) sponsored by the School of Medicine are expected to disclose any real or apparent conflict of interest to the content of the educational program. All commercial relationships that create a conflict with the planners, speakers and authors control of content must be resolved before the educational activity occurs.

The State University of New York at Stony Brook is an equal opportunity/affirmative action educator and employer. This publication can be made available in an alternative format upon request.